COLONEL PETER DONAN. Well known in this State as editor and political writer, who died in Portland, Ore.

News has reached relatives in this city of the death, on June 1, in Portland, Ore., of Colonel Peter Donan, often referred to as "Pat" Donan, newspaper writer and editor, once identified with and an influence in the politics of the State. He had made his home in Oregon for the last few years. Alt was he, who, when editor of the Lexington, Mo., Caucasion in the carly seventias, coined the slogan, "Greeley, the Devil, or Anybody to Beat Grant." This phrase, which was the courter like widding to the carly seventias and headed an article, booming Greeley, with the phrase mentioned above. ries, coined the slogan, "Greeley, the Devil, or Anybody to Beat Grant." This phrase, breading over the country like wildfire, is gold to have secured Greeley the president of the president of the country like wildfire, is gold to have secured Greeley the presidents.

A brother and a sister, a cousin and sophews reside in St. Louis. James H. Conan of No. 3905 Cleveland avenue is the brother, and Mrs. Mildred Donnan Reavis of No. 3655 Finney avenue, the sister. Holland and J. Donan Reavis are newphews, and diss Amy Donan, who lives in Carondelet,

Colonel Donan was an ardent supporter of the cause of the Confederacy, and fought throughout the Civil War. He offered his services at the very beginning of the struggie, and was commissioned by Jefferson Davis personally. For a time he was under General Stenewall Jackson, and took part in nearly all of the principal campaigns.

He was born in Jackson, Miss., but his family moved in his early youth to Pensacols. Fig. Later the family home was in Paris, Mo., and there he received his chief The War claimed his services when he was but 18 years old. After its conclusion he took up newspaper work, which was to be his chief employment for the rest of his life. For two years he wrote the Metropolitan Record of New York under the name of R. E. Bel. The name ing Greeley, with the phrase mentioned above.

He was not of the "settling down" type, however, and he soon left Lexington. Coming to St. Louis he was connected with the St. Louis Times, and became the associate of the well known newspaper men of the day here, J. B. McCullagh, Colonel Hyde, and others. Remaining in St. Louis two years, he went to Bentonville, Ark., thence to Deadwood, Dak., thence to Fargo, N. D., where he edited the Fargo Argus.

He became interested in booming land in Portland for the first time in 1887. He remained but a short time, not returning to live until 1887, the year of his marriage. His wife, who survives him, was a Miss Eleanor Brown, of Pocatello, Idaho. One child is living.

Several times in his life he made visits to South America. One of these was to Honduras, in connection with the Panama Canal. The exact nature of the mission is not known among nis relatives. Also, though his home was in his later years continuously in the West, he made several visits East, where he had friends in nearly all of the larger cities. SENT TO JAIL FOR CONTEMPT. Robert L. Langdeau Failed to Obey Order of Court.

Robert L. Langdeau was fined $25 and senoed to five days in jail yesterday by Ciroult Judge Spencer for contempt of court, coult Judge Spencer for contempt of court, whiling to obey an injunction issued by Judge Ferriss prohibiting him from establishing an office on the first floor of No. 90 North Third street.

The order was made in the suit of Maurice R. Block against Robert L. Langdeau and C. H. Langdeau, doing business as the Langdeau Commission Company. Block rents the lower floor of No. 90 North Third street from Langdau, whose firm occupies the upper part of the building, it is stated. Block claimed that Langdeau was using a part of the lower floor for office purposes. After the injunction had been issued the case was transferred to Judge Spencer's court. Information was lodged with the Court that Langdeau had violated the injunction, and yesterday he was called upon to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt. Langdau appeared, represented by counsel. Judge Spencer stated that from admitted statements of the facts it appeared that Langdeau had violated the order. He was asked to remove his articles of office furniture from the first to the second floor, and refused, whereupon the Court imposed the penalty. He was taken to jail by Deputy Sheriff Watsen.

Father Fenlon Will Observe Anniversary at St. Bridget's To-Day With Confirmation.

Thirty-five years ago to-day Father Edward Fenion, paster of St. Bridget's Church, was ordained to the priesthood. The occasion will be celebrated this afternoon with confirmation exercises, in which 200 girls and boys of St. Bridget's Parish will receive the sacrament from Archbishop Kain.

Father Fenion was born in Queen's Coun-

Pather Fenlon was born in Queen's County, Ireland, August 27, 1843. He attended the national schools until the age of 15, when he entered the classical college conducted by the Brothers of St. Patrick, at Tullow, County Carlow, and was graduated therefrom in 1851. In the latter year he matriculated at Carlow College and was ordained June 15, 1867, by the late Bishop Waish of Kildare and Laiglin.

A few months later Father Fenlon came to the St. Louis Diocese and was made assistant at St. John's, Sixteenth and Chestnut streets. A year later he was transfetrred to Annunciation Parish, under the rectorabil of the Reverend D. S. Phelan. Then he went to the Old Cathedral, and in 1868 he became assistant at St. Bridget's, remaining there twelve years. In 1861 he was instructed by Archbishop Kenrick to establish a parish in the West End. The result of his labors in that part of the city is Visitation Parish, one of the most flourishing congregations in the city. During his rectorabile, extending over eighteen years, Father Fenlon built the church, parochial residence, school and home for the sister teachers.

On June 19, 1859, Father Fenlon returned to St. Bridget's, this time as pastor. He stood for this Irremovable rectory at the special request of the Archbishop, and when his name was mentioned all the competitors withdrew. Father Fenlon is vice president of the Orphan Board, and resigned from the Archbishop's council when he was made irremovable rector. He is an effective speaker and an accomplished organizer. He is the soul of hospitality and it has been said that no priest in St. Louis has more friends than he.

The confirmation exercises at St. Bridget's today were not arranged in honor of Father Fenlon's anniversary as a priest. At the time the latter spoke to Archbishop kain about a date for confirmation he was not thinking of the anniversary as a priest. ROSENBERG CHARGES SPITE WORK. Mayor of Granite City Alleges Perse-cution by Political Enemies.

Mayor Julius Rosenberg of Granite City, who was indicted Friday by the Madison County Grand Jury for bribery and malfeasance in office, stated yesterday that the action of the jury was caused by spite work of Republican opponents in the town, made by his victory last election.

"The charge of malfeasance," said the Mayor yesterday, "was brought because of my action in furnishing supplies to the smallpox sufferers in the epidemic here last winter. No one else would do it, and if I had not furnished them the patients would have starved. I admit the charge about the slot machines, but while the jury was deliberating one was being operated in front of the Courthouse.

"In my three years service I never did an unlawful act and am not afraid of going to trial. I received at least twenty offers of bond yesterday from people in St. Louis."

National Museum of South American Republic to Be Brought to the Fair.

Argentine Republic is coming to the World's Fair with the greatest exhibit that country has ever made at any exposition, President Roca has officially informed Jose de Olivares, the World's Fair Commissioner to that country, of the intention of the Government to provide the finances for a display that will challenge all the South American Republics.

A leading feature of the display will be found in the part the Argentine National Museum of Fine Arts has reserved for itself. Senor Diuardo Schlaino, director of the museum, is making estimates for the amount of floor space required for the exhibit, which he declares will surpass every former exhibit from that country.

The National Museum is accredited with possessing the largest collection of fine art works in South America, not excepting the Chilean museum, and includes subjects that have won high awards in Paris and Chilean museum, and includes subjects that have won high awards in Paris and elsewhere before their installation in Buenos Ayres. The expense of sending the exhibit to the United States will be borne by the Argentine Department of Public Instruction.

Senor Francisco Seguf, member of the Argentine Congress, has reported to Commissioner Olivares that President Roca has decided to give the financial support of the Government to the National Chamber of Commerce in its plan for a national exhibit through the medium of the Industriales.

Officials at the head of the Argentine navy have inquired whether war vessels of moderate dimensions, such for example as the Nashville, which three years ago ascended the Mississippi to St. Louis, would be invited to participate in a series of naval maneuvers or an international naval review in the river, before the city. Commissioner Olivares advises the Exposition management that the Argentine navy would readily participate in the display, which has been considered by the World's Fair authorities.

POSTPONES ACTION ON STATEHOOD BILL

Senate Committee, by Strict Party Vote, Decides to Take Matter Up Next Session.

Washington, June 14 .- The Senate Committee on Territories to-day decided to take up for consideration early in the next session of Congress the omnibus statehood bill, admitting into the Union the Territories of Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona. The decision was arrived at upon motion f Senator Nelson, and the motion was adopted by a strict party vote, the Repub-

Democrats in the negative. This vote was preceded by two votes on motions made by Democratic members looking to the consideration of the bill during the present session. The first of these motions was to take up the question rext Wednesday. This motion was made by Senator Bate and was voted down, the Republicans voting unanimously in the negative and the Democratis in the affirmative. A motion by Senator Bailey to report the bill to-day met with a like fate on a party vote. The Democrats opposed Senator Nelson's motion on the ground that its adoption would preclude the possibility of onsidering the bill during this session.

COOL FOOD

For Hot Days.

Better health comes with less meat and fat during the warm weather.

By proper and pleasant diet you can prepare the body for summer and feel from ten to twenty degrees cooler than your neighbor.

Grape-Nuts and cream, a little fruit and possibly a couple of soft-boiled eggs, is sufficient for the breakfast. An oxidnary portion of Grape-Nuts contains sufficient nourishment to fully sustain the body until the noonday meal; being a predigested food, it does not overtax the stomach and contains none of the heat supplied by the heavy carbonaceous foods.

Fully cooked at the factory by food experts, brings it to you ready to serve, and does away with the heat of cooking and the time necessary to prepare ordinary food and its crisp daintiness is pleasing to the painte of young and old.

Many delicious recipes are found in each Grape-Nuts package, so that the form of eating this wholesome food can be changed to suit the user.

These suggestions, if followed for ten days, will convince the most skeptical that a cool body, an active brain and an energy bitherto unknown will prevail and the general lassitude peculiar to warm weather will disappear.
